

A line drawing of a concrete mixer truck. A large, solid black rectangle is superimposed over the driver's side of the vehicle, from the front door area to the rear of the drum, indicating a significant blind spot for the driver.

