

A line drawing of a motor vehicle, possibly a small truck or utility vehicle, viewed from the side. A large black rectangular box is placed over the driver's seat area, obscuring the details of the seat and controls. The vehicle has a steering wheel, a dashboard, and a large cylindrical tank or container in the front. It is mounted on four wheels, with the front wheels being smaller than the rear wheels. A dashed line is visible on the ground in the foreground.
